Access EPA Series

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) maintains a series of directories to improve access to environmental information services provided by EPA and other public sector organizations. The directories are maintained by EPA's Office of Information Resources Management to support the Agency's mission. Each directory provides contact information and a description of services provided. The directories are updated annually. Current directories in the series are:

- o State Environmental Libraries
- o Major EPA Dockets
- o Libraries and Information Services
- o Clearinghouses and Hotlines
- o Public Information Contacts

State Environmental Libraries. This is the second edition of this directory and the first in the current Access EPA Series. The directory contains information on the collections and services provided by State environmental libraries. It also contains 4 appendices covering the following areas: subject indexes, State environmental hotlines,library &state directories.

ACCESS EPA Series

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) maintains a series of directories to improve access to environmental information services provided by EPA and other public sector organizations. The directories are maintained by EPA's Office of Information Resources Management to support the Agency's mission. Because EPA believes that public access to environmental information fosters environmental awareness, the directories are made available through the National Technical Information Service. Each directory provides contact information and a description of services provided. The directories are updated annually. Current directories in the series are:

- State Environmental Libraries.
- Public Information Contacts.
- Major EPA Dockets.
- Libraries and Information Services.
- Clearinghouses and Hotlines.

INTRODUCTION

This is the second edition of the Directory of State Environmental Libraries. The Directory is part of an EPA initiative to support information sharing between EPA and the States. It will be updated annually.

The Directory contains information on the collections and services provided by State environmental libraries. It also contains four appendices covering the following areas:

- Subject Index to State Environmental Library Collections
- List of State Environmental Hotlines
- Name Directory of State Environmental Librarians
- State Directory of State Environmental Librarians
- State Environmental Libraries Collection and Services Form

The information contained in the Directory was collected from State environmental libraries. Libraries were identified by the Information Management and Services Division and the EPA Library Network. We are aware that some libraries may not be listed.

If you know of other State environmental libraries not included in this edition, please give them a copy of the "State Environmental Libraries Collection and Services" form which is located in the back of the Directory and ask them to complete and return the form to the address listed below:

Chief, Information Services Branch (PM-211D)
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
401 M Street, S.W.
Washington, DC 20460

This directory was compiled by Steven Hirsch, Reference Librarian. Any questions should be directed to Head Librarian, U S. Environmental Protection Agency, 401 M Street, S.W., PM-211A, Washington, DC 20460.

ADDRESS: Alaska Department of Environmental Conservation
(DEC) Library
P.O. Box O
Juneau, AK 99811-1800

TELEPHONE: (907) 465-2621

FAX: (907) 586-1391

LIBRARIAN: Katie Sloan

HOURS: 8:00 - 5:00
Monday - Friday

TIME ZONE: Pacific

DESCRIPTION OF COLLECTION AND SERVICES: The library contains approximately 11,000 books and documents, including books classified by the Library of Congress system, Alaska State documents, Alaska municipal documents, University of Alaska documents, documents from other States and countries, conference and symposium proceedings, EPA documents, Federal documents, and environmental impact statements.

The library subscribes to 75 periodicals held in the Juneau central office, and administers subscriptions received elsewhere in the State (approximately 200) at DEC offices.

Only one-fifth of the collection is cataloged. The library offers a "periodical awareness service" to DEC employees where the tables of contents of magazines are copied and sent to anyone interested. The employees then ask for the articles to be sent to them via interlibrary loan (ILL).

INTERLIBRARY LOAN POLICY: The Alaska DEC library does not charge an ILL fee. The library responds to ILL requests received when possible and refers those it cannot fill to other agencies. The DEC requests a number of ILL's from other libraries, many from the EPA library in the Region. While the DEC library is a branch of the Alaska State Library and open to the public, 95% of its circulation and ILL activity is for DEC and other State employees.

DESCRIPTION OF COLLECTION AND SERVICES: The Department of Natural Resources and Conservation (DNRC) Research Center provides a research collection and the services of a professional librarian to assist the research staff. The Department houses two major collections:

- The water resources collection includes materials on general planning for water resources development, methodologies and technical analysis for water management, and site specific studies based on river basin studies in the State.

- The energy collection also includes materials on general planning as well as siting of energy facilities and the attendant environmental impacts. A large part of the energy collection relates to renewable and alternative energy, and energy education.

INTERLIBRARY LOAN POLICY: The public may borrow from the DNRC collections by calling or writing to the above address. The library reserves the right not to loan those titles that are in use by the staff for specific studies that are underway or those items that are used frequently by the staff. Non-circulating research and reference materials may be used in the DNRC Center.
